THE CONSTITUTION.

BY W. A. HEMPHILL & CO. | ATLANTA, GEORGIA, SATURDAY, JULY 31, 1869. | VOLUME II.—NUMBER 89.

EVENING EDITION.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA:::::::JULY 30.

PERSONAL.—We had the pleasure of a call from Dr. Walker, of Jefferson city, in attendance on the Dental Convention. Also from our Dalton friend, Col. C. D. McCutchen.

Mr. Haygood's Letter.

We have been very considerably tickled at the stir occasioned by Mr. Haygood's fine letter on the abuses of the press. We copied it because it was able and true. As far as we personally were concerned, we were out of the category; though if we had been in it, we should still have published it, for the simple reason that we endorsed it. Somebody below had been complimented by Mr. Kenny, and had thanked him, but we knew nothing of it, and it had even escaped our attention when published, and was, therefore, new, when the Intelligencer triumphantly popped it into our face the other morning.

But the cream of the whole is, that our Republican neighbor, dropping the Governor a little while, has been wondrously merry over the thing—poking the Intelligencer in the fifth rib, giving a swipe at THE CONTITUTION, and then landing a heavy rasp on the clergy, for their "raffles," etc., thus occupying a sort of moral-supervisor-general position. We give a portion of his really amusing comments:

A few days ago, there appeared in the Macon Christian Advocate, an article from the pen of Rev. A. G. Haygood, of this city, on the subject of "Thanksgiving for a Demijohn of Whisky," which we observe has created some fluttering among our neighbors of the Intelligencer and CONSTITUTION. The last named paper, profiting by the adage that "discretion is the better part of valor," reproduced Mr. Haygood's article in its issue of Sunday morning, and actually carried the joke so far as to preface the same with editorial remarks in commendation thereof.

But for this adroit movement by THE CONSTITUTION, in attempting to prove, an alibi, the Intelligencer it seems, would have preferred to keep silent, and "let time smooth o'er suspicious ripple," in the hope that the reverend gentleman's scathing rebuke might not become a matter of common report. But our Broad street neighbor, who, it appears, had been guilty of the sad indiscretion of rendering a public "Thanksgiving for a Demijohn of Whisky," put his foot right into it by throwing the onus upon our Whitehall street neighbor. Whereupon, good Dame Durden, with a simplicity that is refreshing, and with a candor that is commendable, comes out in a full column editorial, acknowledging the "fit," but denying that it would fit no one else! In confirmation of this, the excellent old lady reproduces, from THE CONSTITUTION, its editorial, "Thanksgiving for a Demijohn of Whisky," and triumphantly asks why that paper also should not come to the Confessional!

We regret that our brethren of the city press have got into this trouble! We read and enjoyed the article in the Macon Advocate, but refrained from reproducing it through courtesy toward both our city cotemporaries! But now that the ice is broken, and the thing is being talked about, we offer the friendly suggestion that there be no more long editorials written in acknowledgment of "demijohns of whisky," but that they both follow the example of the Era, in inserting a "City Budget," wherein all such notices are inserted and paid for at regular advertising rates of so much per line. This will not commit the editorial conduct of the paper to the support of any particular whisky establishment, but will be read and regarded merely as a matter of business!

Of course our immaculate contemporary must be spotless to write in this self-complacent sort of spirit. Its lordly superiority made us absolutely lose buttons with our vigorous cachinations; particularly when on glancing through his files, we find that sundry ales and champagnes, and "Old Wickliffe," have been palatable to sound Republican stomachs on divers times. We give one little tit-bit. We mean you to pick out our Champagne, Doctor, after this. With the Intelligencer for whisky critic, and the Era as Champagne standard, we expect the revenue department to be kept inexpensively posted about "proof" spirits.

Krug & Co.'s champagne wine is considered by connoisseurs to be the best in the world, not excepting the famed Clicquot. Hitherto this wine has not been on sale in this State, and is comparatively little known. Messrs. R. M. Rose & Co., however, have obtained the agency for it in Georgia, and have now a few baskets of it on hand. Certainly it is the finest wine we have ever tasted. As soon as it becomes known, we predict that it will take the precedence over all others, and become the popular wine with everybody. The senior manufacturer at Reims, is considered the best connoisseur in Europe.—Era, 22d April.

Come down from that moral high-horse, Doctor, and own up like a man.

Free Education in Atlanta.

In No. 2 of this series, it was proposed that a Board of Education composed of enlightened friends of education, be appointed by the City Council, whose duty it shall be to investigate and report upon the merits of the system of Free Schools now so successfully managed in many cities, and to recommend a plan for supporting and managing them. This subject is of such vast and pressing importance, as to demand the most enlightened investigation, and early action.

Those who have never given the details of popular education their serious and careful attention, should not be content to approve or condemn the proposed system of Free Schools, without carefully studying the facts bearing upon the subject, which experience has developed.

The people of Atlanta cannot, with all their prestige as the builders of a city, afford to ignore the subject of education. They want the cheapest and the best system. They cannot afford to permit the present generation to grow up in ignorance. Time flies, and the boys and girls of to-day will, a few years hence, be the men and women of the city.

The city can not afford, (it is not its interest to do so,) to await the slow action of the Legislature of the State and expect that, from a general system of Free Schools, supplied by the State, the demands of this rapidly growing city, in reference to education, can be met.

Cities like Atlanta, can do more and better for themselves in this regard, by controlling the Free Schools independent of State interference.

The grade of schools, the standard of education, and the extent of the curriculum of studies, must be different from and superior to what will content legislators in planning Free Schools for the State at large.

A city like Atlanta situated in a salubrious locality, ought to be a great educational center. It is at this period of time absurd to rely wholly upon individual enterprise to build up schools. The day has passed, when private schools are to be preferred in the city to the public school system. Your City Council should early take action, and give this subject serious attention. As sure as time lapses, the city will have its Public Schools, and if the present Council declines the honor of taking the initiative, that honor will sooner or later be reaped by some of their successors.

Columbus abounds with idle negroes. [Columbus Sun.

The Sun reports the return of the surveyors of the Bainbridge and Columbus Road.

The ground this side of Lumpkin is favorable, save Hannahatchie Hills. The line runs through the town of Cusseta, North to Ochillie Creek, near Beverly Thornton's, down the valley to the Upatoie, near Van Horn's Mill, through Baxter's and Robinson's farms, crossing Bull Creek above the Averett bridge, to the East commons of the city. Another line runs to Lumpkin by Jamestown; and another still, East of the Cusseta line. One of these will be chosen. Land owners seem to be liberal about right of way.

The Rome Commercial gives the proceedings of the Sunday School Convention of the Oostanaula Circuit, at Floyd Springs, the 26th of June. Resolutions were passed and committees appointed to help the Sunday School cause. A large celebration of all the schools in the Circuit, is to be held at Rush's Chapel, on the 18th of August. The Convention meets, in April next, at Rush's Chapel.

General rain. Prospect of full late corn crop.—Rome Commercial.

The School Fair, at Marietta, on the 3d week in August, beginning Tuesday and ending Friday, promises to be a good thing. The Manager and Superintendent, W. L. Mansfield, is working with laudable energy. The object of the Fair is one in which we take a strong interest—the establishment of two good schools in Marietta—one for the free education of Confederate children—the other a female college.

Almost a freshet in and around Marietta. Corn greatly injured by drought. Sow heavily in turnips and grass.—Marietta Journal.

Grand Jury presentments show a bad condition of country affairs. First cotton boll full opened, in Lowndes, on Wednesday.—Valdosta Times.

Slight rain in Covington, on Monday. [Covington Examiner.

The negroes have had a meeting in Savannah, to nominate a candidate for Mayor. The Rev. T. B. Campbell was the chief bottle-washer. The following verse was sung with prodigious gusto:

We are marching to the polls, boys,
We're marching there to vote:
Shouting the joyous cry of Union;
You can't buy us with your whisky,
You can't buy us with your rum:
Shouting the joyous cry of Union.

The Savannah News relates the following as a part of the proceedings:

At the conclusion of the reading of the song, the Secretary read a burlesque account of the last meeting held in that place, which appeared in an up-country paper. He spiced his reading with comments upon various points in the report, which was received with much favor. When the writer declared in hyperbolical terms that Bullock, Hopkins, et. al. were great, good, and learned men, the Secretary would pause to say "that's so," and when he said anything that insinuated or asserted any thing to the contrary, or in any way detracted from the dignity and immensity of said meeting, or the men who composed it, he would say "you all know that's a lie, gentleman," and all the people said hi! hi!

W. H. Baker has made a report of the Public School in Savannah and the county. They are thriving. Two new ones have been established this year. The scholars enrolled number 1,256, of which 682 are in the city. The children in Savannah number 3,600 white, and 3,000 colored, and of these 2,409 white and 1,000 colored, attend schools of some sort, leaving 1,291 white, and 2,000 colored, that attend no school. Wickedness diminishes in proportion to the diffusion of education. Money received has been $22,950 23; expended $21,316 76; balance $1,633 47, which is $1,290 42 greater than last year. The average cost of educating one scholar is $15 05.

HAS NOT ATLANTA THE ENTERPRISE TO GET UP A SYSTEM OF FREE SCHOOLS? IT IS NEEDED HERE.

The number of visitors to Catoosa, Cohuttah, and Gordon Springs, is increasing.

The Augusta Chronicle says, that it is reported that the South Carolina Radical Coroner, who got up the big fuss at Edgefield Court House, left Augusta for Atlanta, sandwiched between two Federal soldiers, to see Governor Bullock, to get him to adopt measures to restrain the Augusta Ku-Klux from attacking the negro militia at Hamburg.

The same paper says, that Blodgett will move to Atlanta, and it is rumored that Superintendent Hulburt will not let Blodgett handle any money.

General rain, doing growing crops much good.—Greenesboro Herald.

"The Atlanta CONSTITUTION is daily improving as a news paper. It is edited with industry and ability."—Griffin Star.

We heartily acquiesce in the opinion of brother Fitch. A glance at the columns of THE CONSTITUTION will convince any one that it requires no ordinary degree of talent and labor, to publish such a paper. We congratulate brother Avery upon his eminent success as a journalist.—Greensboro Herald.

We thank our confrere kindly and reciprocate fully his good feeling.

THE SPANISH PEASANTRY.—The pastimes of the male peasants are songs, dances and shillelahs. In this respect they resemble the Irish. They love their natal soil and prefer it to any other part of Spain. They are an industrious agricultural people, and the smiling vales of the Vascongada provinces present unmistakable prosperity. Every inch of ground is well cultivated, and being in the mountainous country they do not suffer from drouth or want of water, like Castile and La Mancha. The farms of the peasants are small, the majority of them being not over five acres, which are worked entirely by the mattock and spade in the hands of the frugal husband and wife and their children, neither male nor female, feeling themselves degraded in the least by it, for did not Adam, the first king, cultivate the ground also? It is, indeed, a curious sight to behold a family of fine boys and beautiful girls bent down in a row, with mattock in hand, vigorously working on fallow ground; far better than to see another family of dandies and coquettes dangling canes and silk parasols in a street; for one sees humanity at work, feeling themselves ennobled by it, on the one hand, and on the other shiftless humanity, feeling its way by degrees to the grave, without the powers of human nature having been exercised.—*Cor. NO PLACE LIKE DIXIE.—The following paragraph, which we copy from the Washington (D. C.) Express, of Saturday last, is expressive of the feelings of thousands of colored persons who have been left dependent upon the cold charities of would-be philanthropists:

A Georgia Slave Returns to Her Master. Some weeks ago an old negro woman about sixty years of age, named Henrietta McClintock, arrived here under the impression that she was reaching Little Washington, Georgia. On her arrival she met officer E. McHenry, and told him of her troubles. During the war she had left her old master, Mr. Benjamin F. Barksdale, of Danburg, Georgia, and had wandered through Tennessee, until she was weary of such a life, and anxious to return to her "old master." She then inquired at an interior village the direction to Little Washington, and was directed to the ticket office, where a ticket to Washington, D. C., was sold her. This exhausted all her means, and arriving here without friends or money, she was in sore distress, and on meeting officer McHenry, begged him to write to her old master for money to take her home. That officer interested himself and did so, and without delay he received a letter from Mr. Barksdale containing $20. Last night he bought her a ticket, placed her in the cars, and she left for Dixie's land well and happy.

SLEPT TOO SOUNDLY.—We saw a negro lad, yesterday afternoon, about fourteen years old, sitting at the corner of the iron warehouse—Huff's Rink—half nude, and crying most bitterly. We asked him the cause of his trouble, and he replied: "While I was a sleepin' down dar in de shade, some body stole my breeches off me."—Macon Telegraph.

OUR JOB WORK.—THE CONSTITUTION Job Office, with its new and varied material, its new presses, new type and many kinds of paper and colored inks, is prepared to do work as cheap, as good, as stylish, and as quick as any other office in the South.

We are willing to compare specimens with anybody.

More Radical Unfairness.

We give below the comments of the New York Tribune, on the result of the Turner trial. It believes, with eager and dashing credulity, the ridiculous tale of Chamberlain and Higginson, that Turner had been persecuted in the matter. We are not prepared to say that Chamberlain's version is without foundation, but we do say, if it is true, that Turner's persecutors were Swayze and his Radical friends, and not any Southern men. It is a notorious fact that no one knew of Turner's alleged complicity with the counterfeiting scrape but the United States officers; that such complicity was for a long time kept secret, that numbers of Southern men and papers discredited the matter, and that finally, Turner was arrested by government officials upon information furnished by a Radical, and confirmed by Turner's connection with the woman, Maria Harris—a woman unknown to Southern men. Every fact developed on the trial shows that there could have been no possible political persecution in it. Turner's counsel were Democrats. Not a bit of sympathy was expressed by Democrats for his principal persecutor, Swayze, nor did any affiliation ensue upon Swayze's effort to break Turner down.

Is there no possibility of this jaundiced and able journal, doing justice to our people? Is everything to be distorted against us, even the most trivial matter—matter the most inconsistent with the false conclusions it draws? Is there no cure for its rank, envenomed, bitter prejudices? Such a course as papers like the Tribune, pursue to the South, is a caricature upon fair journalism—a mockery of truth. If we refute their errors, they are silent, and refuse to publish our refutation. If there is any possibility of distorting facts against us, they do it unscrupulously. They sneer, and pervert, and malign. We have no patience to comment further.

The letter to Col. Higginson concerning the arrest of Turner, the negro postmaster of Macon, which we printed yesterday, received a prompt confirmation in the verdict of the Court. As is already known, the new evidence of which it spoke, abundantly established Turner's innocence, and secured his discharge. Georgia papers now bristle with stories, as portentous as they are vague, concerning alleged revelations of private character, which, though not sufficient to secure Turner's conviction in any Court, will, as they boast, be enough to force the Administration to dismiss him from office. We beg to suggest that this is coming out at even a smaller hole than that whereby they entered. They began by charges of counterfeiting, which it is now proved that they trumped up with the sole purpose of seeking to drive the man out of office. Failing in their conspiracy, they resort to charges of general depravity. We are neither prepared to dispute nor to admit them—we only suggest that it has been a fortunate thing for a great many previous postmasters in Georgia, that this test of fitness was not in vogue in their day.

ANOTHER SHELL.

The Comptroller Fires a Heavy Shot—Another Letter from Major Madison Bell.

From the Intelligencer.]

ATLANTA, GA., July 28, 1869.

The controversy between the State Treasurer and myself has not been sought or desired by me, but, on the contrary, I have endeavored, by every means that honor and self-respect would justify, to avoid it. This controversy first grew out of a correspondence between the Governor and this Officer, elicited by a note of inquiry from the former. In my reply, I stated that I had not approved warrants drawn upon a fund that was exhausted, or drawn when there was no appropriation to meet them. My reply was couched in as respectful language as I could command, and even exhibited a scrupulous abstinence from any discourteous allusions to the action or motives of the Treasurer, whatever. His first effort was to prove that my answers to the Governor's interrogatories were not true, but having failed to do this, his subsequent effusions are a mixture of reckless assertion and personal invective, which I do not propose to notice, but as the Treasurer sets himself up to be the only officer who confines himself within legal bounds, I do propose to exhibit some of his inconsistencies, and to show that his actions have not been in accordance with his professions. And, as he has taken the liberty to deal so unsparingly with what he affects to consider the motives that have prompted my official action in the premises, he will pardon me if I take a slight retrospect of his own. He referred to my approval of warrants drawn on the Printing Fund to pay for advertising Executive proclamations, orders, etc., as proof of his charge, that I had approved warrants drawn on "a fund specially appropriated and restricted to some other purpose."

The vindication of my course in this matter is before the public and it is not necessary to repeat it. But what will the public think when I utter the assurance that this immaculate Treasurer paid these warrants without a murmur, down to as recent a period as the 8th of December, 1868, and that I can prove what I say by his own report, which I now have before me. On page 17 of this report, under the head of "Printing Fund of 1868," I observe the first warrant No. 901, in favor of Dr. Samuel Bard, for advertising Governor's proclamations to July 28th, 1868, $149 00." Then follows forty-seven more warrants for the same species of service, and drawn on the same fund, running through a period of nearly four months, and for a sum of money amounting in the aggregate, to over six thousand five hundred dollars. Where were his scruples then, and with all his boasted knowledge and legal acumen, why had he not discovered during that period of nearly four months, that it was a violation of law to pay such warrants? Why has he not explained to the public, while endeavoring to fix the approval of such warrants on me as a crime, as a conspiracy to rob the Treasury, how it is that he was a participant in the same crime by paying forty-seven of those illegal warrants, amounting to the sum of six thousand five hundred dollars? Let him also explain how it happened that he became so suddenly enlightened as to the law, and so scrupulously conscientious as to stop the payment of such warrants just about the time he had a rupture with the Governor. Plain, unsophisticated people would regard this as rather a singular coincidence at least, and all fair-minded, unprejudiced men, would like to have it explained. Can it possibly be, that as long as the Treasurer was on friendly terms with the Governor, he was willing to unite in the "conspiracy" and participate in a violation of the law, but as soon as a breach occurred between them he changed his course, not for the sake of the law, but for the purpose of annoying the Governor by dishonoring his warrants? He was either ignorant of the law, and his duty as a public officer, as he now professes to understand them, or he knowingly and criminally violated the law, (for it stood then precisely as it does now), and in either case he should come to the confessional and make an atonement for his error, before he arraigns another officer before the public for approving the forty-seven warrants that he paid.

In his last communication, which appeared in the Era of the 27th instant, he again refers to my approval of warrants in favor of additional clerks in the Executive office, and triumphantly asks, "Where is his authority for departing from law, and letting the Governor's sense of pressure be his rule of action?" I do not notice this point now with the view of again vindicating my action in the premises—this I have already done in former communications. But I do so for the purpose of again showing up the Treasurer's inconsistency by introducing his own official acts. I find, by reference to the record, that warrant No. 149, in favor of N. L. Angier, for $882 55, drawn on the 7th section of the Appropriation act of 1868, "for stationery, printing, etc.," was approved and entered on the 20th of January, 1869. Then again, I find that warrant No. 107, in favor of the same, for stationery, exchange, telegrams, express charges, etc., and drawn on the 23d section of the Appropriation act of 1869, was approved and entered on the 19th of July, 1869. Where was your authority, Mr. Treasurer, "for departing from the law" in these two cases? Why was it not as lawful to pay the warrant of Mr. Conley, the State Librarian, drawn upon the same 23d section, for postage stamps, drayage, etc., for the use of his office, and for which he had advanced the cash out of his own funds? His warrant was in every respect similar to your own, yet you refused to pay it because it was drawn on the 23d section. Let it be understood that the 7th section of the act of 1868 and 23d section of the act of 1869 are the same in substance. If it was contrary to law to pay Mr. Conley's warrant, where is the authority, Mr. Treasurer, for paying your own? What excuse have you for breaking the law in your own favor, and recognizing it when the interests of others are involved? I ought to mention, in passing, that Conley's warrant was only for $41 30, while yours (the last named) was for $785 40.

But again: The Treasurer has arraigned me for approving warrants for extra service, and goes out of his way to allude specially to a warrant in favor of my brother, which he styles as being of "doubtful propriety." I wonder what he thought of certain warrants in favor of his son, which he paid, and where he finds his much vaunted "authority of law" for so doing. Now, I assert, that the warrant in favor of my brother, to which I presume he alludes, was authorized by express provision of law. On page 186, published laws of 1868, resolution No. 12, expressly authorizes me to have certain entries transferred in my office, and to employ a suitable clerk to do the work. By this authority I employed my brother, and he executed the work to the entire satisfaction of a Legislative Committee, who examined it. Why then, this insinuation, that the warrant was of doubtful propriety? But, as the Treasurer speaks of the amount of said warrant being at the rate of $150 00, it occurs to me that he may possibly refer to another warrant in favor of my brother for services under the "Wild Land" laws. If so, he is equally unfortunate, for section 878 of the Code expressly authorizes the Governor to appoint a clerk to perform the duties upon which my brother has for some time been engaged, having been appointed by the Governor. For this service the warrant was drawn at the rate of $150 00 per month, and as no salary was fixed by law for this clerk, the Governor, in his discretion, fixed it as above. It is the same that has been allowed other clerks in the Executive office and in the office of Superintendent of Public Works. Also, the clerks employed to make county maps, etc., all which the Treasurer has heretofore paid, without doubting their propriety, so far as I am informed. But why did the Treasurer pay a warrant for $500 in favor of his son for making a transfer of certain entries in his office, and why did he, at a subsequent period pay another warrant in favor of his son for the same service for $350, making, in all, $850 for these transfers, when there is no express law authorizing it?

The resolution named refers exclusively to the Comptroller General's office, yet I find on my book the two warrants in favor of the Treasurer's son for "extra service transferring Treasury Rockwell's books," etc. This is not all. The Treasurer affects great veneration for "law," and the "will of the Legislature," yet in the teeth of his pretensions, I find on my book warrant No. 28 for $150, in favor of his son, approved November 10, 1868, "for extra services as Treasurer's clerk." On page 10, Laws of 1868, section 13, of the Appropriation Act, there is appropriated $500 to pay the salary of the same clerk for the latter half of 1868. This act became a law 10th of October, 1868, and here was the expressed will of the Legislature that the Treasurer's clerk should have but $500 for half the year, or at the rate $1,000 per year. Yet, on the 10th of November, thereafter, the Treasurer, with all his veneration for law, and the expressed will of the Legislature, paid his son $150 over and above his lawful salary.

Again, on the 18th January, 1869, I find that another warrant for the same amount, No. 132, in favor of his son, was approved and entered, for similar services in the Treasurer's office. Now, let it be remembered that about the same time that each of these warrants was approved, another warrant for $250, drawn on the civil appropriation for the salary of this same clerk was approved and paid, so that he drew the $500 appropriated, and $300 besides, for his services during the latter half of the year 1868.

The Treasurer comments severely upon my assertion that I had no right to supervise the Governor in his application of the Contingent Fund, and attempts to show by quotations from the Code that it is my duty to audit all accounts, and allow or reject them before they are submitted to the Governor, but this does not show that I have the right to designate the fund out of which they shall be paid.

I have audited and allowed or rejected every account that has ever been presented to me, and if I have not done this in cases of all the accounts that have been paid, it was because the holders have not presented them. And here the Treasurer is again unfortunate. He takes me to task for not approving every account of each fund out of the Contingent Fund by the Governor, when he himself has neglected, in some instances, to present his accounts for approval, and has filed his accounts in the Executive Office indorsed with his own approval alone, presented his warrant at this office, had it approved and pocketed the money. I ask again, why has he thus disregarded the instructions of the law which he has quoted? Why does he not set a better example, and practice what he preaches? I find on file in the Executive office accounts amounting, in the aggregate, to over $700 00, approved by the Treasurer, embracing in part, cash payments made by him for stationery, exchange, express charges, telegrams, water cooler, letter heads, etc., and this is included in one of the same warrants referred to before, drawn on the 23d section of the Appropriation Act of 1869. Now, not one of these accounts has my approval upon it, yet in the eyes of the Treasurer, it is a great dereliction of duty in me not to audit every account, for which a warrant is issued. So it seems when he wants to get money, he does not wait for the regular routine which he now insists that the public creditors shall follow, at least, he did not wait in the instance referred to.

In conclusion, I would remark that in all I have said during my controversy with the Treasurer, I have dealt with him in his official capacity, and it has been my purpose to avoid personalities. Being attacked, I considered it a solemn duty to defend my official course, and the honor and dignity of the Comptroller General's office. This is due to the public, for whose benefit the office I hold should be administered. Further than this it has not been my intention to go, and with this, I bid the Treasurer adieu—at least for the present.

Respectfully, MADISON BELL.
Comptroller General.

A GEORGIA SCENE.

Whisky and the Law in Novel Conjunction.

HOW JUDGE BROWN STOLE THE SPOONS. Many years ago, when the State of Georgia was in its infancy, one of the Circuit Judges was Bela Brown—an ancestor of the recent "secesh" Governor of that name. He was a man of ability and integrity, but like a good many distinguished persons of that day, he loved a social glass; and whenever the members of the bar would turn in and help, he sometimes drank to excess and became gloriously fuddled. On one occasion while traveling on circuit, he reached the village of Dayton, in Dooly county, where the court was to be opened next day, and took quarters with a relative of his wife, that lady accompanying him. After supper, Judge Brown strolled over to the only tavern in the place, kept by one Sterritt, where he met a number of his legal friends. A convivial evening was passed; drinks frequently went round, and somewhere about midnight, the Honorable Bela was in a state of mind quite the reverse of that implied by the old saw, "sober as a Judge." When he was leaving for home, one of the young lawyers, in a spirit of mischief, slyly passed some spoons from the tumblers into the Judge's pocket.

On dressing himself next morning, the eccentric official, putting his hand into his pocket, was greatly perplexed in discovering three or four silver spoons.

"My God! Polly," said he to his wife, "just look here: I believe I've stolen some of Sterritt's spoons!"

"Let's see them," says the wife. "Yes, sure enough—here's his veritable initials! Pray how did you happen to have them in your pocket?"

"I think I must have been drunk when I came home, wasn't I?" inquired the Judge.

"Yes," replied the devoted Polly, "you know your old habit when you get among those lawyers."

"Certainly; I can understand easy enough how it all came about. That fellow, Sterritt, keeps the meanest liquor in the State; but I never supposed that to drink it would make a man steal!"

The spoons were duly returned to the landlord, and the Judge went and opened his Court, thinking no more of the matter. Several days elapsed, and the business of the Court was drawing to a close, when one morning a rough looking customer was arraigned before his Honor for larceny. He pleaded guilty, but said in mitigation, that he was drunk at the time he committed the offense.

"What is the nature of the charge against this man?" enquired Judge Brown.

"Stealing money from the till at Sterritt's tavern," replied the clerk.

"Young man," said the Judge, solemnly, "are you sure you was intoxicated when you took this money?"

"Yes, your Honor, I was so jolly drunk that things looked like they was dancing double shuffles, and when I went out doors the ground kept coming up and hitting me in the head."

"That will do," replied the Judge. "But tell me, did you get all the liquor you drank at Sterritt's?"

"Every drop of it, your Honor."

"And so you got tipsey on his liquor, and then stole his money?"

"That's it, exactly; I didn't know what I was doing."

Turning to the prosecuting attorney, the worthy magistrate said: "This is a most extraordinary case, Mr. Attorney, and one, I think, demanding the clemency of the Court. You will therefore do me the favor of entering a nolle prosse. That liquor of Sterritt's, I have reasons to know, is mean enough to make a man do anything dirty. I got drunk on it myself the other night, and stole all his spoons! If Sterritt will sell such abominable stuff he ought not to have the protection of this Court. You may release the prisoner, Mr. Sheriff."

WHAT GEORGIA WILL DO.

A Radical Correspondent Thinks Georgia Wont Rescat the Negroes.

Quondam, the Macon correspondent of the New York Times, writes thus about the probabilities of the ineligible negro members being reseated;

I think it may be taken for granted that the present Legislature will not reverse their action of last year relative to the negro members, and thus give retroactive effect to the decision of the Supreme Court of the State. They will follow the course recommended by Mr. Stephens and others, and leave to their successors—the next Legislature, to give effect to the judicial interpretation of the Constitution in relation to the eligibility of colored men to office. There is a very wide-spread apprehension that this determination will afford the extreme Radicals in Congress a pretext to reopen the question of reconstruction in Georgia, and to use the common phrase, "remand the State to military control." There can be no doubt that the question will be brought forward immediately on the assembly of the Legislature by Governor Bullock, and that the discussion will be made as exciting and acrimonious as possible.

If the colored members were to be restored to their seats, it is still very doubtful whether the Democrats have not sufficient strength on joint ballot to defeat Bullock for the Senate to fill Senator Miller's vacancy. In this case, Mr. Bullock would prefer that the Legislature adhere to its past resolution, and refuse to reseat the negro members, in the hope that Congressional interference would provide that "new deal" for which he has so long striven, and that with all the trumps in his hand, he might then secure the election he is said to desire so much. While there are many men in the State who would reseat the negroes in order to secure peace and avoid the Congressional breakers ahead, I am satisfied that an overwhelming majority of the Legislature are now opposed to such a course, and I see no prospect that their minds will be changed.

THE RIDGEVILD AFFAIR.—From the Constitutionalist we glean that the committee from Edgefield to Governor Scott, learned he had not authorized a company to be formed, but that he had sent arms down as a precaution to keep order, and had only sanctioned a guard for the arms. Louis Schiller, an Edgefield constable, visited Augusta to order four short swords, as they could not wait to get them from New York.

Governor Scott's action is an outrage upon the people. Before sending down the arms he should have first enquired into the truth of the alleged disorders. More Radical villainy.

MESSIEURS LES DEPUTES.—On the 18th of June, my government informed you that on the opening of the next ordinary session, it would place before the representatives of the people the resolutions and projects which it considered capable of answering the wishes of the country.

But the Corps Legislatif appears to be anxious to know immediately the reforms decided on by my government.

I therefore think it necessary to anticipate its aspirations.

The Corps Legislatif must be convinced that my firm intention is to give to its attribute the extension compatible with the fundamental basis of the constitution, and I hereby make public the determination I have decided on in council.

The Senate will be convoked as soon as possible to examine the following questions:

1. Right of the Corps Legislatif to make its own rules and elect its own committees.

2. Simplifications of the mode of proposing and examining amendments.

3. That the government be obliged to submit to legislative approval the tariff modifications which in future may be stipulated in international treaties.

4. Voting of the budget by headings, in order to render the control of the Chamber more effective.

5. Abrogation of the constitutional enactment which at present disqualifies a deputy from becoming a minister of the crown, and fulfilling certain other public functions.

6. Extension of the right of interpellation.

My government will also examine the questions which concern the attributes of the Senate.

The more efficacious solidarty which will establish between my government and the Chambers the faculty of exercising at the same time the functions of minister and deputy, the presence of all the Ministers in the Chamber, the examination in council of the affairs of the State, and a loyal understanding with the majority, constitute for the country all the guarantees which we in our common solicitude consider necessary.

I have already shown you several times how, for the good of the public, I am disposed to give up certain prerogatives which belong to me. The modifications which I have decided on proposing are the natural development of those which have successively been made in the institutions of the empire; they must, however, leave intact the prerogatives which the people have more explicitly confined to my care, and which are the essential conditions of a power which protects order and society (hear, hear, cheers, and cries of "Vive l'Empereur!")

☞ A piece of literary gossip of more than common interest is found in a recent Paris letter. When Madame George Sand was about to publish her first work she called upon M. Jules Sandeau, and when its object had been stated Delatouche said: "Take the name of to-day's saint, and half of Sandeau's name." She followed his advice, and signed herself George Sand.

DEAR SIR:—For three weeks past I have been using your PLANTATION BITTERS. For more than four months past I have been suffering from what my doctor said was nervous prostration, being unable to endure hardly any physical or mental labor without great fatigue. But I had not used the Bitters a week before I was conscious of their benefiting me as nothing else had, and I have continued to gain very rapidly since, till now I am able to be about my usual household duties. To all who are afflicted with general debility I can testify from experience that the Bitters are invaluable.

Yours, truly,
MARGARET B. STONE.

"THE UTLEY COTTON PRESS."

A new invention of power whereby all friction is overcome. The simplicity, economy and durability of this Press astonishes all who see it, the more so, that a power so simple should so long have been unappropriated. The strain is wholly upon two (2) Iron Bars 1¼ inches square, acting on these bars as if two men were pulling at each end in contrary direction, which will sustain a strain of 180,000 pounds each. With this two men can do all the packing or pressing of a 500 pound bale inside of eight minutes, and if need be, one man can operate, only requiring more time. The Press will not occupy more space than a Piano, and can be placed under the Gin and receive the Cotton direct from the Gin, thus doing away with Lint Rooms, and can be readily taken down and transported as it is simple and light. We can supply these Presses cheaper than any yet offered. With bond circulars to any desiring, and would advise all wanting Presses to withhold buying until they examine this. We will, at an early day, have one on exhibition in Atlanta, when it can be seen.

THE DAILY CONSTITUTION.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA: : : : : JULY 31.

Supreme Court—Evening Session.

Reported Expressly for The Constitution.

FRIDAY, July 30.

Argument by General Toombs was resumed in numbers 1 and 2 Northern Circuit. He was replied to by Judge Lochrane.

No. 3 is R. T. Walton vs. A. L. Anderson, et al. Bill of Injunction and Relief, from Walker. Toombs & DuBose, for plaintiff in error. Judge Wm. Reese, for defendants in error.

Pending the opening argument, by Gen. Toombs, Court adjourned till 10 o'clock, A. M., to-morrow.

UNFOUNDED.—The report that Prof. W. Janes contemplated leaving Atlanta, we are pleased to learn, is without foundation. He commenced the Atlanta High School four years ago, and has labored assiduously to build it up. Prof. Janes is identified fully with Atlanta, and its growing interests and expects to remain here as a permanent institution.

VALUABLE LAND.—Mr. E. L. Pepper, offers 3,000 acres of fine land in Calhoun county, for sale on reasonable terms. The land is situated near the line surveyed of the Bainbride, Cuthbert and Columbus Railroad. Mr. Pepper's address is Morgan, Calhoun county, Ga.

FIRE, INLAND, LIFE AND MARINE INSURANCE.—C. B. Wellborn announces in our columns, that he is agent for a number of responsible insurance companies, and adjuster of losses. Mr. Wellborn has long been know and esteemed in this State as a Christian gentleman, and thoroughly correct in business transactions. Few men have ever sustained a higher reputation for probity of character than Mr. Wellborn. We, therefore, feel no hesitancy in recommending Mr. Wellborn as an insurance agent.

A HOME INSTITUTION.—We invite attention to the card of A. T. Finney, of the Atlanta Carriage Repository, in another column. All the work is made at his factory here, and he warrants it for twelve months. For finish, we have never seen his Phætons, Buggies, Sundowns and Carriages excelled. It is a home institution and ought to be encouraged. In consideration of the monetary stringency he is offering his stock at greatly reduced prices. Now is the golden opportunity to obtain home work, fine work, and good work.

A NEW BIRD.—A lady friend the other evening received a beautiful present from an unknown friend. The letter accompanying it stated that the present was an imported Egyptian mocking bird. In taking the bird out of its cage it escaped, and the lady had but a moment's glance at it. The bird was about the size of a common martin, black, and had a voice which was melody itself. The lady is anxious to obtain possession of it, and any one finding a bird of that description, will confer a favor by leaving information about it at this office.

AUCTION TO-DAY.—Barrett has another big auction of fine furniture to-day. Be on hand early, if you would secure bargains.

BISHOP ANDREW.—This venerable divine arrived in our city yesterday, and is the guest of J. J. Groves, Esq.

THE UTLEY COTTON PLOW.—We direct special attention to the advertisement of R. P. Glenn, agent for the above celebrated plow, in another column.

The praise of the good Dentist is in the mouth of every one of his patients.

We saw several Dentists looking "down in the mouth" yesterday, at the Southern Dental Convention.

GEORGIA DENTAL ASSOCIATION.—According to previous notice, a portion of the Georgia Dentists assembled at the City Hall, at 3 P. M., yesterday. Dr. F. Y. Clark, of Savannah, was called to the chair, and Dr. J. P. H. Brown, of Augusta, requested to act as Secretary. Drs. S. G. Holland and J. P. H. Brown, of Augusta, and W. H. Burr, of Madison, were appointed a committee to draft a suitable constitution, and report at the next meeting. Savannah was selected as the place, and the 28th of December, as the time, for the next meeting.

An election for officers was held with the following result: President, W. H. Burr, Madison; Vice-Presidents, S. G. Holland, Augusta; J. Fogle, Columbus; Corresponding Secretary, J. P. H. Brown, Augusta; Recording Secretaay, T. J. Crowe, Macon; Treasurer, H. Marshall, Atlanta.

Executive Committee.—F. Y. Clarke, Savannah; L. D. Carpenter, A. Hape, Atlanta.

Drs. F. Y. Clarke, E. W. L. Engle, and other Dentists, of Savannah, are requested to co-operate as a Committee of Arrangements for the next meeting.

The following enrolled their names as members: W. H. Lowrence, Athens; S. G. Holland, J. P. H. Brown, Augusta; L. D. Carpenter, H. Marshall, J. D. Thomas, A. Hape, A. Ford, Atlanta; J. Fogle, T. W. Hentz, Columbus; B. B. Alford, LaGrange; W. H. Burr, Madison; F. Y. Clarke, E. W. L. Engle, Savannah.

The Convention was composed of earnest, thinking men, who desire the advancement of their profession, and the dissemination of practical information in the land concerning the preservation of the teeth. We hail the movement with pleasure, and feel convinced that it will redound to the good of the profession and the country at large.

After returning thanks to Pat. Fitzgibbon for unremitting attention, and to THE CONSTITUTION for being represented by a reporter, the Association adjourned sine die.

WAS IT A SIN?—Two young ladies were on their way to prayer meeting, the other night, when one asked the other, if it would be a sin, after a prayer meeting to go to Thompson's and get ice cream. The other thought not, and so they went. It was so delicious, they think of going there often, as it is a favorite resort for the elite.

THE SURE METHOD.

A Certain Road to Reconstruction for Georgia—The Way to Out-wit Governor Bullock.

The difficulty in "reconstructing" Virginia, Mississippi and Texas, can be settled in a jiffy if the people of those colonies are sharp enough. If they make a false step, all is lost! I learn that their fate, however, is in their own hands as yet, but alertness is the word.

To counteract the design of the satrap of Virginia of modelling the Legislature of the "Mother of States" to suit the extremists instead of answering his inquisitorial political catechism recently addressed to each member, let them in a body assemble in caucus, and tender formally the two Senatorships to Dr. Sharpe and Mr. Corbin, two favorite brothers-in-law of the President. And why not? Are they not quite as acceptable to the substantial men of Virginia as McKenzie, or Walker, or Stearns, or Wallack?

After electing Dent Governor, let Mississippi forthwith choose him and Jesse Grant, the venerable father of Ulysses, to the same respectable legislative body. As for Texas she can pick and choose, for there are "a few more left."

If this policy shall be pursued and fully carried out without "mental reservation" (and I hear it has the approbation of Judge Sharky, who has been eminently successful in patching up agreeable compromises as to "reconstruction"), the admission of the three outside States will be assured—if not, then assuredly not.—Washington Cor. Baltimore Gazette.

☞ Grant's pet nigger down in Georgia, has been released from prison in the hope that he will turn State's evidence. He would then be a true Turner.—New York Telegram.

☞ Charles Dickens, Jr., is writing a story which will soon appear in the Gentleman's Magazine.

The sale of Dr. J. Bradfield's Female Regulator is unprecedented in the history of popular remedies, and thousands of certificates are coming in from grateful women, throughout the Union, attesting its powers and applauding its untold benefits to their sex. dtf

"FRESH AS A MAIDEN'S BLUSH," is the pure peachy complexion which follows the use of Hagan's Magnolia Balm. It is the True Secret of Beauty. Fashionable Ladies in Society understand this.

The Magnolia Balm changes the rustic Country Girl into a City Belle more rapidly than any other one thing.

Redness, Sunburn, Tan, Freckles, Blotches, and all effects of the Summer Sun, disappear where it is used. And a genial, cultivated, fresh expression is obtained which rivals the Bloom of Youth. GEORGIA MUTUAL FIRE AND LIFE Insurance Company, MACON, GA.

Authorized Capital: : : : $500,000!

Certificate of authority issued by the Comptroller General, under Act of March 19, 1869, requiring one hundred thousand dollars capital.

COL. W. J. LAWTON, President, J. C. McBURNEY, Vice Pres't, R. J. LIGHTFOOT, Secretary.

This Company is now prepared to issue all classes of Policies. In the Life Department it offers more liberal terms than any other company in this country.

It asks particular attention to the following prominent features:

1. It is a Home Company—a Southern Company, owned and managed by as able financiers as our State can produce.

2. All its policies are non-forfeiting, and so long as one dollar of premiums or dividends remain in the hands of the Company unearned, so long is the policy kept alive.

3. Its policies are incontestible, except for fraud.

4. Its policies contain no restrictions of either travel or occupation, and world-wide in its fullest sense.

5. As low a rate of premium as a due regard to safety will permit, and will compare with any other Mutual Company.

6. Thirty days grace allowed upon payment of renewal premiums, and the policy held good for that time.

7. One-half the premium remains a permanent loan on the policy, at legal interest, which loan it is confidently expected will be extinguished by dividends.

8. It is a Mutual Company; all the profits equitably divided among its policy holders.

9. Dividends declared annually, upon the contribution plan.

10. Females insured at same rates as males.

Feeling assured that the above features must commend this Company to the favorable consideration of the public, we respectfully ask an investigation of its merits, by those contemplating insurance, satisfied that we offer greater inducements than any other Company now extant.

Able Solicitors and local Agents wanted all over the country. Address,

L. H. BRADFIELD'S COLUMN.

DR. J. BRADFIELD'S
FEMALE REGULATOR,
Woman's Best Friend

THIS valuable Medicine is prepared for WOMEN exclusively, and to be used by WOMEN only. It is adapted especially to those cases where the WOMB is disordered, and will cure any irregularity in the "menses," except in such cases as require a surgical operation. As these last are very rare, the FEMALE REGULATOR is of almost universal application. In a sudden check of the "monthly courses" from cold, trouble of mind or like cause, it acts like a charm, by RESTORING THE DISCHARGE IN EVERY INSTANCE, thus relieving the fever, headache, pain in the small of the back and "lower stomach," flushes of heat about the face, chilly sensations, burning of the eyelids and general restlessness. Taken in time, all these symptoms pass away immediately, without injury to the constitution. Frequently, however, the proper remedy is not applied in time, the disease becomes chronic, and the foundation laid for numberless evils to the constitution of the woman. The next "turn" comes around and there is no "show," or perhaps the "whites" will appear. There will be some uneasiness about the womb, but very little or none of the natural fluid escaping. The complexion becomes sallow, bowels, swollen, a sort of greenish caste about the face, constant dull aching pains in the head, weight in the lower stomach and back, with or without whites, palpitations of the heart, pallor, exhaustion, indigestion, weariness, langour, aching across the loins, loss of appetite, pain in left breast, tightness across the chest, cough and giddiness. If still allowed to go on, "green sickness" will be fully developed—the headache becomes severe, with loss of memory, diminishing sensibility, SICK STOMACH, dyspepsia no relish for food, loss of flesh, increased fluttering of the heart SWELLING OF THE FEET, legs and body and occasional spitting of blood. The slightest effort causes HURRIED BREATHING, almost SUFFOCATION. The skin is flabby and a "doughy feel." This is a sad picture, but it is the condition of thousands of women between the ages of 15 and 45, who are brought to the verge of the grave by ignorance or neglect to take the proper remedy. To all who are afflicted with any of the symptoms above mentioned, in connection with an irregularity of the "monthly sickness," we earnestly say TAKE DR. J. BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR. A few ounces taken, you will at once experience its benefits, and with a little patience you will be fully restored to health.

This remedy has been extensively used for upwards of twenty years by many of the most experienced and successful Physicians of Georgia.

We repeat, that Dr. J. BRADFIELD'S FEMALE REGULATOR is prepared for WOMEN and to be used by Women only.

A trial is all we ask.

ATLANTA, Ga., December 29th, 1868.

DR. J. BRADFIELD—Dear Sir: I take pleasure in stating that some time previous to the late war, I used, with the utmost success, on a servant girl, your FEMALE REGULATOR, prepared then at Bradfield's Drug Store, West Point, Ga. She had been suffering severely from suppressed menstruation, and this Medicine soon restored her to health. She is, to-day, living in Atlanta, sound and well.

I will state, further, that I know of its being used, with equal success, on a servant girl of my brother-in law, Professor Rutherford, of Athens, Ga. This woman had, I think, been diseased for six years. She was a house servant, and seemed cured, up to the time of "freedom," I do not hesitate to indorse your preparation for the purposes for which you recommend it.

Yours truly, JNO. C. WHITNER.

STATE OF GEORGIA, TROUP COUNTY.

This is to certify that I have examined the recipe of Dr. Joseph Bradfield, of this county, and, as a medical man, pronounce it to be a combination of Medicines of great merit in the treatment of all the diseases of females for which he recommends it. WM. P. BEASLEY, M. D.

THE excellent Remedies of O. S. Prophitt, M. D., need no recommendation—their well known power in removing the diseases peculiar to our Southern climate having already established for them an enviable reputation in Georgia and the adjoining States. As the majority of persons living in the South are predisposed to disease of the Liver, it is granted by all intelligent physicians that most of the pains and aches of our people are due to organic or functional derangement of that important organ. Prophitt's Liver Medicine and Anti-Bilious Pills strike directly at the root of the evil. They cure the Liver which, in nine cases out of ten, is at the bottom of the Coughs, Dyspepsia, Colic, Sick Headache, Rheumatism, Constipation, Menstrual Obstructions, etc., so common among our people. Earache, Toothache, Acute Rheumatism, Neuralgia and and bodily pains of every kind flee before

THE DAILY CONSTITUTION.

ATLANTA, GEORGIA:::::JULY 30.

City and Suburban Affairs.

Supreme Court—Morning Session.

Reported Expressly for The Constitution.]

FRIDAY, July 30.

Argument was resumed and concluded in Sims et. al., vs. Sims et. al. Equity from Oglethorpe.

B. H. Hill, by the Reporter, for plaintiffs in error.

Matthews and Reed, Toombs and Dubose, for defendants in error.

This was the last of the continued cases on the Northern Circuit.

No. 1 of this term is, Thos. C. White et. al., vs. Wm. M. Haslett et. al., and No. 2 is, Thos. C. White vs. Dillard Hearndon. Each is a question upon the Relief Act, and from Elbert county.

H. A. Roebuck, J. D. Matthews, by Mr. Reid, for plaintiffs in error. E. P. Edwards, Hester and Lumpkin, Toombs, for defendents in error. They were consolidated and argued together.

Pending the argument of Gen. Toombs, Court adjourned till 3 o'clock, P. M.

THE BIBLE.—Sometime since, the Local of the Intelligencer, called in at the Central Book Store, and wished to borrow a copy of the Book of Books. The obliging and witty clerk, in answer, said, "We've been called on, many times, to loan out Shakspeare, Milton and other works, but seldom the Bible! I shouldn't suppose a Local had much use for one. But anyhow, as it may be novel to you, I'll lend you one." Whereupon our friend, the Local, remarked, in his column, the next day, that Messrs. Phillips & Crew seldom sold a copy of the Bible. In this, he was mistaken, for they sell a large number. The clerk meant that he did not have calls to loan them out, and not that he did not have calls to purchase them. You can find every style and variety of the Sacred Scriptures, at the Central Book Store, and we advise those who do not possess a copy, not to borrow, but to purchase one. But considering that they will be performing a meritorious act, Messrs. Phillips & Crew will either loan or give a copy to "Locals" who stand in need of Bibles.

ELLIOTT STREET.—The citizens living near Judge Collier's residence, are sadly inconvenienced at present, for want of a thoroughfare. The continuation of Elliott street from Mitchell to Nelson, will add greatly to their benefit, and enhance the value of property in that section, now depreciated because of its inaccessibility. We understand that a petition signed by Judge Collier, Col. Mynatt, Thomas Scrutchen, Esq., and many other influential citizens, will be presented to Council to-night, praying for the continuation of Elliott street. Council, we are confident, will promptly grant it.

DENTAL CONVENTION.—This body adjourned sine die this morning, after returning thanks to the Railroad Companies for courtesies extended them; to the city Press, to the City Council for use of the hall; to Dr. Samuel Hape for his exertions to provide for the comfort of the Dental Association; to the Secretaries for a faithful performance of their duties; and to Patrick Fitzgibbon, keeper of the hall, for fidelity and courtesy. They also instructed the Treasurer to pay Mr. Fitzgibbon ten dollars for his services. Pat is deservedly popular. The Convention proceeded in a body to the front of the City Hall, where they were "taken" by Lane, the photographist. The balance of the proceedings are unimportant.

REAL ESTATE SALE.—Yesterday evening, Messrs. Wallace & Fowler made the following sales of real estate. Ten lots of Mr. G. C. Rogers, situated between McDonough and Crew streets, viz: one to Col. J. M. C. Reed, for $200; two to T. A. Hurt, for $393; H. Elleby, one for $190; W. H. Owen, two for $397; Jo. Wooten, one for $215; Mr. Steinhour, one for $199; Dr. Samuel Hape, one for $230; and L. B. Langford, one for $191. Total of sales $2015. One acre on Crew street, the property of Mr. G. H. Pattillo, was sold to J. W. English for $1,065. A house and lot on Frazier street, belonging to Mr. H. H. Richards, was sold to Daniel Murphy for $1,500. Owing to the lateness of the hour, the sale of the Haslett property was postponed until next week.

GOOD JOKE ON THE DENTISTS.—It is a noticeable fact, that the members of the Dental Convention, speak very low and soft, in consequence of professional habit. Their language is courtly and soothing—a perfect anodine. A lady in the gallery, who had in vain endeavored to catch the drift of what the various speakers were saying, remarked, "that if they were at home scolding their wives they would speak in a higher key." This of course did not apply to the old bachelors, who can be excluded on the ground of continued use of "soft talk" both in and out of their offices.

DEATH OF MRS. E. W. COLE.—The Augusta Chronicle announces the death of Mrs. E. W. Cole, wife of Col. E. W. Cole, at Nashville. Mrs. Cole was a lady eminent for Christian and social virtues, and beloved by all who knew her. Her death has caused a gloom to settle around many a household where she was revered as a friend.

REMOVED.—Capt. E. P. Howell, member of the City Council, Solicitor General, and attorney at law, has removed his office to Col. Gaskill's building, near the railroad crossing, on Whitehall street, over the office of Col. G. N. Lester, Home Commissioner of Emigration. The room will be fitted up with cushioned seats, carpets, mirrors, and all the modern improvements, for the special accommodation of lady clients.

CORRECTION.—In our notice of the Dental Association, this morning, we stated that Dr. Cutler's essay was on "Microscopy of the South," we hurriedly wrote South for teeth!

In the notice of Scott's Magazine, "The Will of God," should read "The Mill of God."

ACCIDENT.—A negro boy, in the employ of Dr. H. Marshall, named "Bo Rabbit," fell out of a wagon yesterday, and broke his right arm. The limb was set by Dr. Marshall, and the patient is doing well.

PERSONAL.—Gen. Garlington and family reached here yesterday, from South Carolina. Gen. Garlington has purchased a residence in West End. We gladly welcome him in our midst.

TAKEN!—Lane, the photographist, took the Dental Convention this morning in a body, at the City Hall. It will be, doubtless, a fine picture.

SWEET POTATOES.—We have been shown specimens of sweet potatoes, raised this year by Prof. J. R. Mayson, at Kirkwood, 2½ miles from this city. They are of fair size and early for this latitude.

MOVED UP.—Foster Blodgett and his family arrived this morning, from Augusta.

THE Dent-ists assembled here are not related to President Grant!

☞ The corn crop of the United States for 1868 was nine hundred millions of bushels; of this about four millions were exported. The wheat crop was two hundred and twenty-five millions of bushels, and of this the larger portion was exported either in bulk or in flour.

A STITCH IN TIME SAVES NINE.—If you have a cough, do not neglect it; thousands go to an untimely grave by neglecting what they call "a slight cold." These slight colds are very insidious. They soon become deep-seated, and defy all remedies. DR. TUTT'S EXPECTORANT will cure it. It can be had of any druggist.

SIMMONS' LIVER REGULATOR OR

Medicine for Dyspepsia, Headache Jaundice, Costiveness, Camp Dysentery, Sick Headache, Chronic Diarrhœa, Affections of the Bladder and Kidneys, Fever, Nervousness, Bills, Diseases of the Skin, Impurity of the Blood, Melancholy or Depression of Spirits.

Most of the ailments here enumerated have their origin in a diseased liver, which is the most prevalent affection in this country, and as in many cases the patient is not within the reach of a physician, it requires that some remedy should be provided that would not in the least impair the constitution, and yet be active and safe. That such is the character of the SIMMONS REGULATOR there can be no doubt, which the testimony of hundreds will establish.

SYMPTOMS OF A DISEASED

LIVER.

Pain in the side. Sometimes the pain is felt under the shoulder blade, is mistaken for rheumatism in the arm. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness, bowels in general are costive, sometimes alternating with laxity, the head is troubled with pain, accompanied with a dull, heavy sensation. There is generally a considerable loss of memory, accompanied with a painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. A slight, dry cough is sometimes an attendant. The patient complains of weariness and debility; he is easily startled, his feet are cold or burning, and he complains of a prickly sensation of the skin; his spirits are low; and although satisfied that exercise would be beneficial to him, yet he can scarcely summon up fortitude enough to try it. In fact, he distrusts every remedy. Several of the above symptoms attend the disease, but cases have occurred when few of them existed, yet examination of the body after death has shown the Liver to have been extensively deranged.

It should be used by all persons, old and young, whenever any of the foregoing symptoms appear. It is a purely vegetable compound, is not injurious to the most delicate constitutions, and will keep the liver in healthy action if used properly.

Persons living in unhealthy localities may avoid all bilious attacks by taking a dose occasionally to keep the liver in healthy action.

Regulator

For children complaining of colic, headache, or sick stomach a teaspoonful or more will give relief. Children, as well as adults, eat sometimes too much supper, or eat something which does not digest well, producing sour stomach—want of sleep—restlessness; a good dose will give relief. This applies to persons of all ages.

Many persons, from eating too much, are restless at night, or in day time hugely, wool-gathering, can't understand what they read, can't keep their thoughts on any one subject so as to reason well, or become restful. One or two tablespoonfuls will give relief.

Jaundice.—Take enough Regulator after eating each meal to produce one full action from the bowels every day.

Pregnant ladies will find pure relief from their headache, costiveness, swimming in the head, colic, sour stomach, restlessness, etc., etc.

DR. HUNTER

CONTINUES to treat all private diseases, Syphilis in all its forms, Gonorrhœa, Gleet, Stricture, Orchitis, and all urinary diseases, and the effects of mercury are completely eradicated; Spermatorrhœa or Seminal Weakness, resulting from self-abuse or other causes, and which produces some of the following effects: as blotches, bodily weakness, indigestion, constipation, prostration of society, unmanliness, dread of future events, loss of memory, indolence, nocturnal emissions, and finally prostration of the vital powers, can be fully restored to health. Persons afflicted with this, or any other delicate, intricate, or long standing constitutional complaint, should give the Doctor a trial. He never fails.

The Doctor publishes a medical circular that gives a full exposition of venereal and private diseases, that can be had free at his office, or by mail for one stamp. It gives a clear delineation of all the diseases and conditions resulting from the indulgences of the moral laws, excesses, indulgences, exposures, and imprudences in married or single life. Every sentence contains instruction to the afflicted, and enabling them to determine the precise nature of their complaints.

The establishment, comprising ten ample rooms, is central. When it is not convenient to visit the city, the Doctor's opinion can be obtained by giving a written statement of the case, and medicines can be forwarded by mail or express. In some instances, however, a personal examination is absolutely necessary, while in others, daily personal attention is required, and for the accommodation of such patients there are apartments connected with the office that are provided with every requisite that is calculated to promote recovery, including medicated vapor baths. All prescriptions are prepared in the Doctor's own Laboratory, under his personal supervision. Medical pamphlet at office free or by mail for three stamps. No matter who have failed, read what he says. Office No. 183 Third street, between Green and Walnut streets, near the Postoffice, Louisville. Office hours, 9 A. M., to 7 P. M.; Sundays, 10 A.
